Health Partners Foundation Awards 100K in Scholarships

By Staff Writer

On June 18, 2018, Health Partners Foundation (HPF) awarded $100,000.00 in scholarships to 13 local high school students in Southeastern PA for their academic achievements and commitment to health care. Each year the Foundation offers two types of college scholarships to outstanding students, "Making Dreams a Reality Scholarship" and "Community College Connection Scholarship."

This year, HPF offered the scholarships to local high school seniors enrolling in a community college or any accredited university and who are planning to major in the health care or social work fields.

The purpose of the scholarships is to prepare students to become the next generation of leaders to address the social determinants of health, which includes healthcare literacy, education, economic stability, social and community context and environmental safety.

By working to establish programs, services and policies that positively influence social and economic conditions, HPF believes these future leaders can improve health outcomes for millions of people in our communities in ways that can be sustained over time, creating a healthier population, society and workforce.
